

BUT FOR YOU (Mary)

But for you, Ben, I don't even know where I'd belong.
But for you, love, life won't ever be the same, without you.

But for you, Ben, I could learn to love another man
But my heart knows it will not let me love again, but for You.

As the days passed by, I wondered how you felt,
And hoped for something more than just my dream of you, For I see there's a hunger burning deep inside your wandering soul, to find a place where peace can fin'ly make you whole,

I will wait for you to find your way back home to see
We can share our lives together, you and me.

But for you, my love, I've known it since I was a girl That it's you, Ben, who has always had my heart, only you.

GOD'S BACKYARD (Company)

Out in the potato fields,
Down in the lumbermills,
You'll find us workin' real hard.

Sun up to sundown,
Rainin' or shinin'
Workin' in God's backyard.

Well, you may think that you are really livin' the Life, payin' for a fancy hotel.
But we got a simple luxury
That Mainer's will never sell.

Nymphin' for Squaretail,
Chasin' a moose trail,
Jiggin' for Salmo Salar.

Springtime to snowfall, huntin' and fishin' Playin' in God's backyard.

You tourists spend an awful lot of money here, Vacationing to watch our leaves. You pay the price for city life, We collect the tolls and fees.

You folks from away may think we're wicked numb,
Livin' in the cold, north air,
But we've got a bean-hole recipe
We promise will grow your hair.

From Fort Kent to Kittery, Calais to Rangeley, The County is still unscarred,

Bug dope for Black-Flies, mind ya' there's bear pies, Livin' in God's backyard.

And you're in God's Country

Out in the potato fields, down in the lumbermills,
You'll find us workin' real hard.
Sun up to sundown, rainin' or shinin'
Workin' in God's back-
Playin' in God's back-
Livin' in God's backyard.

NORTHERN LIGHTS (Ben / Company / Audience)

I knew a man who
Was hoping to find
His future before him,
Not simply behind.
He followed his heart
On a path he believed
Would lead him to glory
But he was deceived
What do you do when your dreams come true
But they are not what you thought they would be Where do you go
To find that place
Where hope can return again,

Look up above, there are lights in the sky
Witness the mystery they hold
In the darkest of night, they shine brightest of all Like a friend we have known from old

Here are the Northern Lights my friend
A wonder of colorful light
When you are lost, they will help you to see
Help you regain your sight

I once knew a man
Wond'ring what could have been,
Had he chosen to love,
To love what he had.
He asked himself
Saying "what might have been"
If only I'd known,
The good from the bad"

Remember the people who light up your life Bringing wonder and magic your way crazy characters you can't forget
Who you've known and can never repay

These are your Northern Lights my friend, the people along the way
Those who have known you and those who have loved you each and every day.

AS THE STARS GIVE WAY (Mary & Lottie)

Is there still a future left for me?
Is my faith a wish that can't be found,
Or are my fears for us just hope that's lost,
Trying to find its way.
Can I live with you, only in my heart,
Is my future just a memory?

Like water rushing past,
Once gone, it's gone,
Never to return.

Life brings hope, like stars bring light,
Every moment fills my heart with promise,
Even in the darkest night.
As the stars give away,
I see a morning light,
Hope remains alive inside my heart

I will never give your love away,
However far apart.

Life brings hope, like stars bring light,
Every moment fills my heart with promise,
Trusting that one day,
I will be with you.

IT JUST MIGHT BE (Ben, Earle, Lottie)

It might be the hand I hold It might be the kiss you give that leaves me feeling breathless, that makes me want to live,
and, yes, it just might be.

It might be the things unsaid, an enchanting mystery that draws your heart to hers
'til you're spellbound helplessly.
and yes, it just might be.
It doesn't have to take long,
In an instant you can see.
that she's the one you're meant for
in this your hearts agree.

It might be the plans we share.
It might be the life we dream that knit our hearts together and the future it can bring
and yes, it just might be

It doesn't have to take long,
In an instant you can see.
that she's the one you're meant for
in this your hearts agree.

It might be beyond mere words.
maybe something you can't speak, a commitment you both share in promises you keep
and yes, it just might be.

WHERE HAVE YOU BEEN (Mary & Ben)

Where have you been all of my life.

Where have I been all of your life.

(Ben starts to chord it on his guitar, moving off the stage into the audience toward Mary)

Why does it take so long just to see

What hearts always know but don't always believe

That it's this love we've discovered

That allows us to be Together as one without all our fears.

Just when I thought that love passed me by

There you have been all my life

Just when I thought that love passed me by

Walking back in to my life

Everything I've ever wanted

I found in your smile and warm eyes

Everything I've always hoped for

Was holding your hand within mine

Where have I been all of my life

Where have you been all of my life

Everything I've ever wanted

I found in your smile and warm eyes

Everything I've always hoped for

Was holding your hand within mine

When will I learn just what to believe

My head always tells my heart wants to feel

But there's a chance just for me

And for you now to see.

Everything I've always hoped for

Was your tender hand holding mine

Where you have been all of my life

Where I have been all of your life

(The theater is awash as the Northern Lights peak) Everything
I've ever wanted

I found in your smile and warm eyes

The Night is Dark (Everett & Company)

Tell you what you want to hear,
To let you chase dreams that will bring you tears.

When sorrows come from the choices,
Decisions you have made
You'll know the grief from things you've lost,
Gone with the price you've paid.
So dark the night, even the shadows flee
So dark your heart only your fears can be seen.
And so you wait, for the tiniest, tiniest bit of light To lift you up, until one day, it restores your sight.

'Cause it is not a lack of knowing
Which has left you in the dark,
It's a dullness in your hearing
That comes from a calloused heart.
If you lack in wisdom,
Understanding what to do,
Humble your heart and listen,
Light will shine on you.

Oo, ooh, oo, ooh... Oo, ooh, oo, ooh...

WHAT COULD HAVE BEEN

In the days we walked and dreamed Together hoping what would be
From our hearts our promises were made
To build a future you and me.

I could not foresee
The paths we'd walk today
We could only dream
And hope we'd see those days...

And I know I broke your heart
Leaving you to chase my dream
It seems, our plans, left me,
And all we might have been.

But still, I think of you
In moments quiet and true
I long for what could have been
If I only could have chosen you.

Dreams don't cost a cent
Most they don't come true
Yet we pay the biggest price
For ones we don't pursue.

Trusting then our hearts
With all our hopes and dreams
Today, I've come, to see,
They'd remain "what could have been".

COMING MY WAY (Ben)

Living each day as if it would last forever
Not seeing the time as it was passing away
Living each day, trusting in moments
Living each day, coming my way.

(At the 1st chorus, a pop/rock band comes in, fully lit up, delivering the song, in concert. Ben is momentarily transformed into a pop star)

Living each day as if it would last forever
Not seeing the time as it was passing away
Living each day, trusting in moments
Living each day, coming my way.

Loving you is easy to do
Heartache fades away
That's how I know, we are true
Your love is coming my way
Giving our time and trusting each other
Whatever may come and question our way
We'll find our answers, coming together
Living each day before it passes away
Loving you is easy to do
Heartache fades away
That's when I know, we are true
Your love is coming my way
The river is flowing

Mountains speaking
Deeper things they convey
Laugh if you must
Dismiss what you're seeing
Still, the sky will show us the way

(Instrumental)

The river is flowing
Mountains speaking
Deeper things they convey
Laugh if you must
Dismiss what you're seeing
Still the sky will show us the way
Giving our time and trusting each other
Whatever may come and question our way
We'll find our answers, coming together
Living each day before it passes away
